

96% Climate 91% 76%

We maintained our commitment to sustainability in 2020.

Denizen® from Levi's® jeans are Water<Less® Signature by Levi Strauss & Co.™ jeans are Water<Less® All Levi Strauss & Co. product is Water<Less®

“A” score LEED Platinum

While the pandemic slowed progress on some fronts, we still made considerable strides and continued to pioneer sustainable products and processes. The year reinforced our sense that we must continue making sure our products are responsibly made and that our operations are more sustainable. Building an economically and environmentally resilient business is key to addressing the climate risks we need to confront as an industry.

50% reduction in water used from more sustainable sources 4.2B liters of water saved 100%

Learn more Water use targets rolled out for key suppliers More sustainable man-made cellulose fibers, protecting ancient farming practices globally Greenhouse gas emissions targets rolled out to all key suppliers

100% renewable electricity by 2025* 195,000

40% reduction of GHG emissions 80%

Launched Levi's Woodland Workers reached by our Worker Wellthred Wellbeing program – enabling health, financial of factories launched chemical management systems

16 countries of suppliers implementing Screened, financial of factories launched chemical management systems

100% more sustainable water use by 2030 Named “frontrunner” by Changing Markets for commitments to responsible wood-based fiber sourcing

Positive Impact Learnings from Harvard's SHINE program being integrated into WWB guidebook and planning

300,000 workers participating in WWB programs by 2025

Material health 2020 Detox Commitments achieved

ZDHC Detox commitments in 2020 (achieved) 16 hazardous chemicals eliminated from our products and manufacturing

Chemical Management System launched in 80% of factories

2030 goals in development